

U.S. Demands Recall Of Red Consul In N.Y.; Abused Post

Washington, Aug. 20 (P) — The United States demanded today that Russia recall Consul General Jacob I. Lomakin from his post because of his conduct in the Soviet refugee teacher case in New York.

The demand was made in a strongly worded note which the state department published early today after sending it to the Soviet embassy here last night.

The note said Lomakin has "abused" his position and been guilty of "gross violation" of proper official conduct.

The U. S. flatly rejected Russian charges that the three teachers, Mrs. Oksana K. Kosenkina and Mr. and Mrs. Mikhail I. Samarin, were kidnapped by the anti-Soviet Tolstoy foundation with the connivance of American officials. The note said the Samarins and Mrs. Kosenkina had declared their desire voluntarily to remain in this country.

"Improper Conduct" While concentrating its fire on Lomakin, the United States declared its reports on the refugee teacher cases in this country "indicate that officials of the Soviet government have been engaged in conduct which is highly improper."

The note "categorically" rejected all charges made by the Soviets against American authorities.

The United States requested copies of two letters which it said were in the hands of the Soviet consulate general in New York and had been written by Mrs. Kosenkina. One was written at the time she decided not to go back to Russia and one little more than a week ago when she jumped out of the consulate window in New York.

The evidence against Lomakin was based on testimony given to American authorities by Mrs. Kosenkina, who is now in a New York hospital suffering with injuries she received in her leap for freedom.

Told To Lie In general, these assertions by her, as described in the state department note, covered these main points:

1. The interview which she gave to the press Aug. 7, after Lomakin had forced her return from the Tolstoy Foundation Refugee farm, "was arranged by the consulate general and x x x she was instructed to make false statements to the effect that she had been kidnapped."
2. She went to the farm, according to her testimony and of a number of other persons, "voluntarily and stayed there of her own free will."
3. According to her reports to American authorities she wrote Lomakin in New York telling him where she was "but she denies stating that she was kidnapped."

Misled Soviets The American note then asserted that Lomakin had, in effect, misled his own government so that the protests which the Soviets made officially through Foreign Minister Molotov and Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin "have been based upon misinformation."

Moreover, the note charged that the consul general had "hindered the investigation of the competent police officials by refusing to allow them to interview Mrs. Kosenkina" at the time she was in the consul's control.

"This action was the more serious," the United States note asserted, "in view of the subsequent statements by Mrs. Kosenkina to the effect that she jumped from the window of the consulate general in order to avoid having to return to the Soviet union."

Deliberate Falsehoods "In addition to the statement made by Mrs. Kosenkina that she was compelled to make in a press interview false statements which had been dictated to her, the consul general himself made or issued statements to the press available, in view of all the evidence available, the department of state can only conclude were deliberately designed to mislead the American public in regard to a serious charge involving the United States government."

"The United States government considers that Consul General Lomakin's conduct constitutes an abuse of the prerogatives of his position and a gross violation of the internationally accepted standards governing the conduct of foreign officials."

"The department of state is therefore requesting the president to revoke the exequatur (the credentials) issued to Consul General Lomakin, and it is requested that he leave the United States within a reasonable time."

ORDERS DRAFT PAPERS MAILED TO REGISTRANTS

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—President Truman told Selective Service boards today to start mailing classification questionnaires to single non-veteran draft registrants by Sept. 7.

The order was in a 36-page set of regulations laying down the detailed provisions for putting thousands of young men 19 through 25 into uniform under the new peacetime draft act.

Under the order, as provided by the act, deferments will be given to men with dependents, to almost all veterans, to men in necessary jobs, including farm work, conscientious objectors and some other classes of registrants. Generally, used in the wartime draft setup.

Single non-veteran men will be the first to get their questionnaires, which the boards will use to determine whether a registrant should be called for induction or deferred. The questionnaires, which must be returned in 10 days, will go out in the order of birth dates — with the oldest first.

Beginning Sept. 30, the boards are to start mailing questionnaires to other registrants in the same fashion. Thereafter, the questionnaires will be mailed to each registrant as soon as he reaches the age of 19.

Registration begins August 30 for men born after August 30, 1922, and continues through September 17 for younger men.

The 25-year-olds will be the first inducted. The army expects to make its first call for about 15,000 men next week and have them in uniform sometime in November.

Under the regulations issued today, each registrant between the ages of 19 through 25 will be considered as available for military service until his status in a deferred or exempt classification "is clearly established to the satisfaction of the local board."

The regulations providing for deferment of registrants with dependents takes in any man with a wife or child or whose induction "would result in hardship or privation to a person depending on him for support."

A "dependent" would include the registrant's wife, divorced wife, child, parent, grandparent, brother, or sister, or a person under 18 or one physically or mentally handicapped "whose support the registrant has assumed in good faith."

The navy warned its organized reservists that if they miss as few as five weekly drills a year they'll lose their draft exemptions.

Under the draft law, members of an organized reserve unit are exempt only as long as they take part satisfactorily in drills and training.

Prisoners Turn Down Proffered Vacations

Atlanta, Aug. 20 (AP)—It seems that some of the 2,200 inmates of Atlanta's federal penitentiary just don't want to get away from it all.

The warden's proffer of a week's vacation—with room and board for free brought out the showprow reply: "I just can't make it now. I can't leave my work."

Warden W. H. Hiatt offered the vacation plan as a morale builder, but some of those eligible for an easy time of it turned him down cold. Only prisoners with outstanding records are given vacations—if they can tear themselves away from their chores.

As an eligible machinist told the warden: "I can't take a vacation interfere with my work."

"Vacation" at the big house means sleeping as late as you want to, basking in the sun, playing tennis, spending the day in the library, going to two shows, lounging in your bunk—things like that. All, of course, inside the penitentiary walls.

Hiatt said many of the prisoners had been working at the same task seven days a week for years, and just didn't want to let a little fun interrupt their work.

Strange, isn't it?

Urges Big Vote To Combat Communism

Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff today urged a full turnout for the November election as one of the best means of combating Communism in this country.

Speaking extemporaneously at the 30th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion, Duff told the 6,600 delegates and alternates from 36 state Legion districts:

"This is one of the most critical periods in the history of modern civilization. A great and powerful nation is making it clearer day by day that it does not want what the American Legion stands for or what America stands for."

Without specifically naming the nation, Duff accused its government of trying to keep the world in turmoil so the Democratic countries would eventually find themselves in another great depression.

PAULINE LUCAS GAINS WEIGHT

Waynesburg, Pa., Aug. 20 (AP)—Pauline Lucas, 31, has regained seven of the 51 pounds she lost in her six-month siege of hiccuping.

Her nurses at Green county Memorial hospital reported that Miss Lucas now tips the scales at 85 pounds, thanks to careful dieting. Last week, her weight was down from her normal 129 to 78.

Since she began hiccuping 178 days ago, Miss Lucas has received thousands of letters and telegrams, 8,000 of them in the last 10 days.

The messages, which necessitated the use of an office girl to answer Miss Lucas' mail at the hospital, offer all sorts of suggestions for a cure.

Some of the wellwishers sent herbs, pills and various medicines. Miss Lucas' physician, Dr. A. J. Blair, issued orders, however, that none of these were to be tested by his patient because no one was certain what was in them.

Some of the remedies are of the more familiar variety such as drinking water, holding a finger in one's ear, and holding a lump of sugar on the tongue. These Miss Lucas has tried without success. At the present she is hiccuping 15 times a minute.

"They are as regular as clock-work," says Dr. Blair.

JOINT CHIEFS ARE CONFERRING

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Forrestal will hold a conference with the joint chiefs of staff at the naval war college at Newport, R. I., beginning late today and continuing through Sunday.

The defense department said the conference follows the pattern established at Key West, Fla., March 11-14. Similar meetings are planned at intervals of a few months in the future.

The purpose is to provide an opportunity for extended discussion of important policy questions in an informal atmosphere and at a distance from the routine administrative pressure and interruptions at headquarters in Washington.

Forrestal will give the service chiefs a report on his talks with Defense Minister Brooke Clayton and other Canadian government officials during his visit last week-end to Ottawa.

Among other subjects to be talked over are: A means of appraising capabilities and performance of present and probable weapons; and the feasibility of their development in terms of cost, time and other factors.

Various problems relating to strategic air warfare will also be considered.

MYSTERY FIRES PUZZLE PROBES

Macomb, Ill., Aug. 20 (AP)—A state fire official returned to the Charles Willey farm today to continue his investigation of a series of mystery fires — and found there had been three more in his absence.

The latest fire destroyed the second barn while two others — in the chicken house and milk house — were extinguished by the elderly farm couple. Previous blazes have destroyed their house and another barn.

The second barn fire was discovered late last evening too late to do anything to save the structure. The other two blazes started almost simultaneously. One was a box of old newspapers discovered by Willey himself. Mrs. Willey found newspapers on a cupboard shelf smouldering.

Meantime John Burgard, deputy state fire marshal, returned from Springfield where he had had samples of wallpaper tested. Fires which destroyed the Willey home started in the wallpaper and later in the walls.

Fred Wilson, Macomb fire chief, said "I'm completely mystified" over the new fires. He took samples of the newspapers to his office for analysis.

Results of the various analyses of insect spray, wallpaper, and other newspapers have not yet been made public.

SEEK CONVICT FOR STABBING

Cleveland, Aug. 20 (AP)—Detectives today hunted for a 26-year-old convict after his estranged wife had been fatally stabbed with a pocket knife.

Federal Probation Officer A. A. Cobb said the man, Mike Balyint, was given his conditional release in November, 1946 from Lewisburg, Pa., where he had served part of a ten-year sentence for kidnaping, in connection with an auto theft.

Balyint's wife, Mary 21, was stabbed last night in the bedroom of her mother's home.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Yuhacz, and Balyint's sister Margaret, 23, received minor stab wounds after they went to the rescue. They were cut on the arms and hands.

Cobb said Balyint was sent to prison for transporting a kidnapped person across a state line. Records showed that in 1940 he and a companion had stolen the automobile of Theodore Fairley, Jr., at Freedom, Pa., and forced Fairley to accompany them across the Ohio line.

News Collected At Random

Senate Joint Res. 158 was introduced by me on November 20, 1947, soon after the Special Session following the end of the first regular session of the 80th Congress was convened at the call of President Truman. This Resolution was the culmination of proposals put forward by a number of prominent citizens of Gettysburg and vicinity for a fitting means of observing the 85th anniversary of the historic event in Gettysburg.

Among those who actively aided in the promotion of this Resolution were Paul L. Roy, Editor of The Gettysburg Times; Dr. Robert F. Tenenbaum of Gettysburg College, President of the Pennsylvania Historical Association; Jesse E. Snyder, Past Department Commander of the Pennsylvania Department of Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War; and also T. J. Winebrenner, Commander, and William L. Meals, Secretary, and other officials and members of Gettysburg Camp, No. 112 of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War; Ralph E. Barley, Secretary, and other members of the Lions Club of Gettysburg; George E. Burgner, Secretary, and fellow members of Gettysburg Lodge 1045 of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks; Fred G. Klunk of New Oxford, Pennsylvania, and the Honorable John Rice, of Gettysburg, Democratic nominee for the Governor of Pennsylvania in 1946.

Although I have singled out these individuals and organizations for special mention in connection with this stamp issue, it is only fair to say that the entire community of Gettysburg and many other individuals throughout the State and Nation effectively aided in promoting the passage of the Resolution.

I sincerely hope to be able to be present in Gettysburg on November 19 when this special series of stamps is first issued. I know it will be a memorable occasion. The people of Gettysburg have lived in such close spiritual proximity to the historic events which occurred a short distance from their town square that the traditions of American freedom have become enshrined in the hearts of each Gettysburger from his earliest days.

Although the Post Office Department generally prefers to issue commemorative stamps only on anniversaries occurring in multiples of fifty years, the Congress determined that the 85th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was an anniversary of sufficient importance to warrant passage of this legislation. In view of the fact that hundreds of requests are made annually for the issuance of commemorative stamps, nearly all of them meritorious, The Post Office Department, of necessity, had to adopt an arbitrary policy in order to limit the number of such stamps in line with practical and mechanical considerations. However, as the report of the Senate Committee on Post Office and Civil Service pointed out, after giving due attention to the objections raised by the Post Office Department, the mechanical difficulties in this instance were far outweighed "by the desire of the citizens to join through a central department of the Government in a visual and universal medium for recognizing the historical value of recalling the part played in American history by the recognized turning point in the war of the 1860's." The Committee, therefore, recommended adoption of the Resolution, the Senate concurred, as did the House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service and the House of Representatives, and the legislation was signed by President Truman on June 29, 1948.

BRECHEN PUTS CARDS WITHIN TWO OF BRAVES

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that Harry (the cat) Brechen has demonstrated he can puzzle the hitters during the day-time as well as at night, the St. Louis Cardinals' ace hurler appears a cinch to realize his ambition to become a 20-game winner.

For years the slender 33-year-old southpaw from Ada, Okla., has been known as a whiz at night, but no more than a good pitcher under the sun.

Now the daytime jinx seems to be conquered. Brechen pitched one of his best games of the year yesterday, shutting out the Cincinnati Reds on four scattered hits, 4-0.

It was his fourth victory against two losses in day games and his 15th triumph of the year. He has won 11 and lost two at night.

The triumph pushed the third place Cardinals within two games of the leading Boston Braves.

Sewell Beats Cubs

Rip Sewell hurled his fifth victory of the season over the Chicago Cubs as the fourth place Pittsburgh Pirates prevailed, 2-1. It was Sewell's eighth of the year.

The Pirates tallied in the first when Andy Pafko dropped Catcher Bob Scheffing's throw on a steal and pushed over the winning run in the sixth when Dixie Walker singled, reached second on Emil Verban's error, and scored on Danny Murtaugh's single. The victory showed the Pirates only four and one half games behind the idle Braves.

The Philadelphia Athletics regained second place in the American league race, turning back the Boston Red Sox, 10-3, in Boston. Connie Mack's fighting A's, knocked out of the runner-up spot by the Red Sox yesterday, pounded five Boston pitchers for 14 hits. They now trail the pace-setting Cleveland Indians by two and a half games.

Rally In Seventh

Tied 2-2 going into the seventh, the A's drove Joe Dobson to the showers with a four-run rally to give Dick Fowler his 12th victory against four defeats. Fowler retired in favor of Lou Brissie in the eighth, complaining of fatigue.

Allie Reynolds held the Washington Senators to five hits in pitching the fourth place New York Yankees to an easy 8-1 victory. Reynolds helped his own cause with a two-run single during a six-run fourth inning against Early Wynn.

A scheduled game between the Braves and Giants at New York was postponed by rain. All remaining teams were idle.

Roundup

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Babe Ruth was talking about baseball, something which wasn't very hard to get him to do. The time was last March, less than six months before he died. The place was Tampa, Fla., one of his stops in his tour of the spring training camps.

"My best years were between 1921 and 1928," he said. "The greatest ball club I was with was the Yankees of 1927."

"The finest man I ever met in baseball was Miller Huggins. My chief regret is that the big fellows like Bob Meusel and myself were too busy having fun to pay much attention to Huggins' orders. We never listened to him crabbng at us when he was trying to keep the whole wild gang in line."

"We just treated him like a little and younger brother, and we roughed and mauled him around. Hug was fine and clean and a great leader. If we hadn't been so busy doing stunts we might have won a couple of more pennants."

"The pitcher who gave me the most trouble during my career was Earl Whitehill of the Tigers and later of the Senators. Sure, I knocked him for a long one ever so often. But most of the time I'd end up walking back to the bench wondering who drugged me. Some say Hub Pruett was toughest for me. He was tough, but he didn't last long. I think one year he struck me out 13 out of 21 times I faced him."

HOME RUN SECRET

The Babe continued: "You want to know why I hit a lot of homers? Well, what I did first was to get the proper stance. I'd shift my feet so I'd be well balanced. That was the most important thing. When I saw the pitch I liked, I'd take a swing. The very second that I felt the bat hitting onto the ball, I would give my wrists an extra twist, and give the ball the old golf follow through—and that was that."

"I don't think anybody around today will break my home run record. That young Ralph Kiner of the Pirates might have had a chance if he batted left-handed. I don't think any right-handed batter ever will hit more than 60 homers. There simply are too many right-handed pitchers around and not enough southpaws."

Ex-Dentist Leads In Denver Tourney

Denver, Aug. 20 (AP)—A slender, ex-dentist from Memphis, Tenn., Dr. Cary Middlecoff, held a one-stroke lead today as the nation's leading par-busters teed off in the second round of the $12,500 Denver open golf tournament.

Middlecoff's drives were long and his iron shots deadly yesterday as he covered the first 18 holes of the 72-hole grind in 65, seven under par and one stroke off the competitive record for the Wellshire Municipal course.

Just one stroke behind Middlecoff at the end of the first round were Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and John Bulla of Phoenix, Ariz.

Trenton Increases Lead In Interstate

(By The Associated Press)

The pace setting Trenton Giants and the runnerup Wilmington Blue Rocks open a series tonight with the Giants holding an impressive three-game lead in the Interstate league.

Wilmington slipped a half game farther back last night by losing to the York White Roses, 3-1, while Trenton was taking two decisions from the last place Hagerstown.

The Harrisburg Senators took both ends of their twin bill from the Lancaster Red Roses, winning the opener 2-0 and taking the nightcap 4-3. The Allentown Cardinals, bottom team in the league's first division, set down the fifth-place Sunbury Reds 5-4 in the other game last night.

The win by York raised the White Roses to within one game of the second place Wilmington club. Chuck Fedoris allowed the Blue Rocks only six scattered hits, including a fifth-inning homer with none aboard by Mike Gollat.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Scranton Miners were within two games of the Eastern league-leading Utica Blue Sox today as a result of a double victory over the Elmira Pioneers.

Behind airtight hurling by Jim Davis and Harry Pilarski, who limited the Pioneers to eight hits in 16 innings, the Miners won both ends of the twin bill at Scranton, 2-0 and 6-1.

The third-place Albany Senators kept pace with the Miners by beating the Binghamton Triplets twice, 4-2 and 4-0, and the Williamsport Tigers lost ground in their fight to tie the playoffs by losing to the Wilkes-Barre Barons, 3-1. The Hartford Chiefs' game at Utica was rained out.

Top Teams To Meet In Army Softball

Phoenixville, Pa., Aug. 20 (AP)—Ft. Monroe, Va., and Camp Campbell, Ky., only undefeated teams, clash today in the feature game of the annual Second Army's softball tournament.

Ft. Monroe chalked up its second victory yesterday with an 8-5 triumph over the New Cumberland (Pa.) General depot, Camp Campbell also scored its second victory, beating Ft. Knox 2-1.

New Cumberland and Ft. Knox, which have split even in two contests, meet today with Camp Lee, Va., and Aberdeen (Md.) Proving grounds tangling in another contest. Camp Lee and Aberdeen also have a record of one victory and one defeat.

The Western Pennsylvania Military District (Pittsburgh) and Army Chemical Center of Maryland were eliminated yesterday when they suffered their second setbacks.

Results of other games yesterday: Aberdeen, 19; Army Chemical Center, 0.
Camp Lee, 4; Western Pennsylvania, 1.

Joost Ready To Play Against Yanks

Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP)—Eddie Joost, the Philadelphia Athletics' peppery shortstop, will be ready to play against the New York Yankees tonight if Connie Mack wants him. Joost had an X-ray picture taken of his injured right hand yesterday and it showed that no bones were broken. Doctors said he could play again as soon as he desired.

Today's Talk

SILENCE AND STILLNESS

Silence is far more than "golden." It is medicine—almost a cure-all! This bodily structure, especially the mind, is subjected to more noise than it ought to be called upon to endure. I was born and brought up in a small town. Quiet little town—no street cars, no rumbling of wagons over stony roads, little excitement—but lots of silence.

Said Thoreau: "Silence is the universal refuge, the sequel to all dull discourses and all foolish acts, a balm to our every chagrin, as welcome after satiety as after disappointment." That is about as accurate and intelligent a definition of silence as I have ever read or heard expressed.

I do not like crowds and I do not like big cities, though a great part of my life has been spent in both. That is why I so cherish a few weeks of the summer months in as perfect a period of silence as one could wish. There is an entire library about me in the shape of trees, wild flowers, clouds, and singing waters. No matter in what direction one looks, there is something in nature that is to be explored and studied. There is new knowledge at every turn of the eye, awaiting interpretation.

God put plenty into the human body and the mind, but he scattered himself lavishly in every created thing in nature. Such mystery, such beauty, such perfection! Why a single oak or maple leaf should be formed so perfectly and so intricately is beyond me. Why a certain pine tree should have a certain number of needles, and another an unlike number, is unexplained to me. And to everyone else, for that matter, I would like to know why, however. That, though, is the fascination and glory of roaming silently in nature's garden.

The striking thing about nature is its friendliness. The simplest wild flower is garbed in wedding array. I cannot understand the mystery and perfection of a flower, but I am filled with wonder by it. Even the commonest stone that you may pick up anywhere has a whole history in its content over which any geologist can enthuse. You have to be in silence and stillness to rightly meditate upon such things, and how much more life is enriched after such meditation!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Playing Up to Fear."

The Poet of the People CHANGED GRANDPA

My pa says grandpa's changed a lot.

Coz when he was a boy like me And did something which he should not.

It made him cross as he could be. But now, when I do something bad, He laughs and says, I'm just a lad.

My pa says he can't understand Why grandpa chuckles when he's told That I've been getting out of hand.

When he was small, he used to scold And say if bad again he'd be. He'd lay him flat across his knee.

My pa says when a boy was he, My grandpa said that lollypops Spoiled children's appetites for tea.

And just as bad were chocolate drops. But now he says that youngsters should Have candy, coz it tastes so good.

My grandpa laughs when pa complains And says that he is spoiling us. He says so long as life remains That question he will not discuss.

"When you're a grandpa, bye and bye." He says: "You'll do the same as I."

CHEN DECLARES HOPE OF CHINA IS IN ECONOMY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

China's disastrous economic and military crisis had me humped over my desk in a brown study yesterday when my friend Dr. Chen Li-Fu dropped in to say how-de-do and have a little chat.

The good doctor being vice president of the Chinese Legislative Yuan (National Parliament) and an economic expert (among many notable achievements), I promptly challenged him to give me a solution for his country's ills. He grinned—as well he might on being asked to solve off-hand one of the world's major problems—but nodded and then proceeded to outline a plan which I found so interesting that I'm going to repeat it here in substance, without trying to use the doctor's language.

Dr. Chen believes the key to the solution is economic and not military. He says that China's economic system is wholly wrong, and that until this is put right there can be no lasting military success or economic recovery.

Ignores Farmers
What's the matter with the system? Just this: It was devised to serve commercial interests almost solely, whereas China is chiefly agricultural. Plenty of help for the big business man, but little or none for the farmer who is the backbone of the country. The economy provides for the short-term loans required by commercial houses, but can't handle long-term loans for the farmer.

Dr. Chen would arbitrarily change the Chinese system and base it mainly on the requirements of agriculture. He admitted rather ruefully that as a matter of fact he had put forward such a program and it had been approved by the government. However, it hasn't been implemented thus far. He is returning to China in the immediate future and hopes to get some action.

"But what about the civil war with the Chinese Communists?" I asked.

Military Strategy
The doctor pulled over a sheet of paper and drew a serpentine line on it to represent the mighty Yangtze River which winds from east to west across central China. He put some crosses on the southern bank, and they represented government armies. That was the map of his strategy.

He would drive all the Reds north of the Yangtze, and then would station his government armies on the southern bank to hold the line and keep the Communists in the north. It would be a holding job for the Nationalists, that's all. Sure, that would cut the country in halves—would create two separate states, if you want to put it that way. But the southern half which is held by the government has great resources. With economic reform the Nanking government could get on its feet. Then it would be prepared to handle the Chinese Reds to the north of the Yangtze and reunite the country.

Well, that's the story. It would be interesting to see such a program tried out, especially since everything else so far has failed.

MILK INCREASE BEGINS TODAY

Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (AP)—Milk was tagged an extra 1½ cents a quart in most of Pennsylvania today, sending up the state's milk bill an estimated $16,000,000 a year.

The new boost, approved by a bitterly dissenting state Milk Control Commission, went into effect at midnight last night in 12 marketing areas.

The only consumers not affected by the changes are those in the Pittsburgh area, which includes most of western Pennsylvania, and in rural communities.

However, price jumps in the Pittsburgh area may be impending as the commission has scheduled a price from Penn State's hotel administration department.

Report Says Dock Strike Is Imminent

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP) — A presidential fact-finding board reported to President Truman today a strike of 45,000 east coast dock workers "is imminent."

The board's report paves the way for a possible government move to obtain an 80-day Taft-Hartley Act "cooling off" injunction forbidding a strike set for midnight Saturday.

A major issue in the dispute involves a Supreme Court decision calling for payment of what the employers term "overtime on overtime."

ICE PLANT BURNS

Chester, Pa., Aug. 20 (AP) — Fire wrecked the Diamond Ice and Fuel Company plant on the Chester waterfront Wednesday. The blaze reportedly started in a stock of waste oil. First reports said the flames might endanger a nearby oil refinery.

conference for Pittsburgh area here on August 24.

But in small towns, where the price has stood at 18 cents for some time, there appeared little possibility of a change in the near future.

The 1½ cent boost was approved by Majority Commissioners John J. Snyder and Charles O'Loughlin last week, with Chairman H. N. Cobb angrily dissenting. Cobb, along with dairymen, insisted on a 2½ cent increase, which he said was necessary to meet competition from New York and New Jersey milk buyers.

TEST RIGHT TO RESTRICT USE STATE'S ROADS

Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (AP) — The state's authority to restrict the use of highways to protect them is at stake in legal actions pending before the Dauphin county court.

C. I. Taylor and William R. Shumaker, Allegheny county strip mine operators, in separate suits have challenged the right of highways Secretary Ray F. Smock to place an eight-ton weight limit on roads leading from their mines.

They claimed in cases now awaiting argument that the restriction prevents them from using their present equipment to haul bituminous coal to market.

Smock imposed the limit on these and other western Pennsylvania roads under authority granted in the state highway code. He acted after highway department engineers reported many light roads were being destroyed by heavily loaded trucks.

Will Be First Case
"It is the first time anyone has challenged the secretary's authority," Harry L. Stambaugh, special deputy attorney general, said today.

"It is a test of the state's right to restrict the use of some roads to prevent their destruction."

Stambaugh, along with Deputy Attorney General Philip Lewis, is defending the discretionary weight restriction powers. The case is now awaiting argument.

The state contends the rural roads were never constructed for anything heavier than farm-to-market traffic, and that heavy trucks are making deep gutters in the road.

One witness testified that the trucks used by the coal operators weigh more empty than the state's weight limit. Loaded, they tip the scales at 18 to 20 tons.

The highways department reported many of the lighter roads have weight restrictions which will be affected by the outcome of the present court actions.

"We imposed them after quite a few of the roads were destroyed by excessive hauling," one official commented. "We have never restricted any primary road, however."

Find New Method For Casting Steel

Beaver Falls, Pa., Aug. 20 (AP) — A new method and machine for continuous casting of semi-finished steel shapes has been developed by Republic Steel Corp. and Babcock and Wilcox Tube Co.

The new method, announced by the companies Wednesday, will enable producers to transform steel from its liquid form into semi-finished shapes in one operation.

The continuous casting reduces the capital cost as well as the maintenance and national costs, the companies said.

"It opens up possibilities of utmost importance to the entire steel industry through increasing productivity and decentralizing production by simplification of apparatus and increasing the final yield of steel from the original melt," the announcement added.

Republic began experiments about six years ago and was joined in 1944 by Babcock and Wilcox.

Martin Lauds Guard Training At Gap

Indianapolis, Pa., Aug. 20 (AP) — U. S. Sen. Edward Martin, former commander of the 28th division, Pennsylvania National Guard, visited here today with his old comrades.

Martin, a retired brigadier general, came here last night for a four-day visit. He will participate in the Governor's Day program here Sunday.

Donning fatigue clothes, Martin toured the various headquarters areas and watched the guardsmen undergo summer maneuvers.

Meanwhile, after inspecting the camp's vast physical plant, he told a colleague of Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber, state adjutant general:

"It is simply amazing how the place has been improved. General Weber certainly has done a wonderful job of housekeeping."

Man Balks Efforts To Prevent Suicide

San Mateo, Calif., Aug. 20 (AP) — A man so determined to die that he resisted efforts to pry him loose from a rail was killed under a fast freight train Wednesday night.

George McLeod of San Mateo told police he saw the man take his position across the rail and tried to pull him clear but couldn't loosen his grip.

Persons living nearby said they had seen the man, tentatively identified by police as Peter Zannon, 59, San Mateo, standing at the crossing on several evenings, apparently making up his mind to die.

FREIGHT KILLS GIRL
Reading, Pa., Aug. 20 (AP) — A freight train struck and killed four-year old Janet Bellemann at the West Leasport crossing of the Reading company. The girl, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bright Bellemann of West Leasport, died yesterday in St. Joseph's hospital several hours after she was hit.

A first business session was held last night and officers will be elected and installed Saturday morning.

The convention banquet Saturday will be addressed by Ramsey S. Black, Democratic candidate for auditor general; State Senator William J. Lane, Democratic candidate for state treasurer, and Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh.

WIN STREAKS GO ON BLOCK SEPTEMBER 10

By LEONARD A. UNGER
Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (AP) — Eleven schoolboys teams play long winning streaks on the block in Pennsylvania's 1948 grid campaign.

The first tests for continuation of 1947 unbeaten records are listed for Sept. 10, the date fixed by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association for the official opening of the season.

This gave the PIAA's 800 member high schools with grid squads the opportunity to start drills Wednesday under the "three full weeks" pre-season practice rule.

New Kensington, western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League 1947 titlist, goes into the fall skirmishes with an imposing record of 18 consecutive victories. Ten of them came last year.

Eleven-Game Winner
The South Penn conference champion, Hanover High, has a two-year winning streak of 11 games. One of the triumphs is a holdover from the 1946 campaign.

Two other 11-game winning streak holders are Clark Summit of northeastern Pennsylvania and Clarion of northwestern Pennsylvania.

Blakely enters the 1948 campaign boasting a 13-game victory skein. It won 10 last year to gain the Eastern Conference championship. Another 10-game winner is Lower Merion of the suburban Philadelphia league.

Polishing off the list of unbeaten squads is Indiana, Brownsville, Tarentum, Tyrone and Burnham.

Three other schools finished their regular 1947 schedules without a defeat but suffered setbacks in post-season tilts. They are McKeesport, defeated by Miami, Fla.; Harbrack, a victim of New Kensington; and Franklin Boro, upset by Bellwood-Antis.

TRUMAN LAUDS LOYALTY CHECK

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP) — President Truman said flatly Thursday the government's loyalty review program is a complete success.

Mr. Truman took issue at his news conference with criticism of his administration stemming from the Congressional investigation of communist spy rings.

He repeated his previous claim that hearings by Senate and House committees have produced no information not already in the possession of the FBI and presented to a federal grand jury.

The President flatly accused the House Un-American Activities Committee of infringing the Bill of Rights in its inquiry into alleged communism within the government.

He said the only two people whose names have been brought into the inquiry as suspected communists already were under indefinite leave before the hearing started.

Truckers Urged To Guard Blind Walkers

Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (AP) — Pennsylvania truck drivers were urged Thursday to observe the "white cane" signal from blind or physically handicapped pedestrians desiring to cross highway intersections.

William F. Crossett, Warren, president of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, said "three surrounding states have a 'white cane' law, Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey. In these states drivers are required to stop when given a signal by an unlit white cane."

Crossett urged cooperation of truck drivers in the observance as a courtesy and safety measure in Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (AP) — Failure to dim lights in the face of approaching traffic was listed Thursday by Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, as "one of the greatest hazards of night driving." This hazard can be removed only by courtesy, Wilhelm stressed.

Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP) — Pennsylvania's future depends on how well the story of its opportunities is put across during the observance of Pennsylvania Week, says Edwin M. Clarke.

Clarke, vice president of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and chairman of the southeastern area for the Pennsylvania Week celebration, told an organizational meeting of the Philadelphia county committee yesterday the purpose of the celebration is to create pride in the state and its achievements.

"We have a fine story to tell of Pennsylvania's opportunities for industry and home-maker alike," said Clarke. "Our future depends on how well we can get this story across in our Pennsylvania Week observance."

State Deputy Secretary of Commerce Raymond H. Smith told the Philadelphia meeting 10,000 volunteers now are at work on promotion of the 1948 Pennsylvania Week program scheduled for September 26-October 2.

Probe Of Dauphin Home Is Ordered
Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (AP) — A complete investigation of the Dauphin county home hospital was ordered Thursday in the wake of charges of "neglect" and "inefficiency."

The investigation was ordered by the county commissioners after John E. Peters, Harrisburg businessman, declared in a radio speech that "many patients died from neglect or lack of attention."

The three-pronged investigation will cover medical, financial and general operations of the institution. Peters, an independent Republican, was defeated by Mayor Claude R. Robins in the primary race for the GOP mayoralty nomination last year.

Babies Tie Up Traffic Court
Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP) — Magistrate Jacob Dogole has nothing against children but he doesn't think their place is in a court room—especially after his experience yesterday.

As he opened traffic court in came nine women, each with a baby in arms.

One of the infants started to cry and soon the court room resembled a nursery.

Dogole promptly put aside all other cases, called the nine mothers to the bar and disposed of them in five minutes. As they turned to leave he offered them this piece of advice:

"If you ever come back here again—leave the babies at home. With infantile paralysis around, it isn't safe to bring them into crowded court rooms."

Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (AP) — The Reading railroad was granted permission to substitute warning devices in place of watchman service at a main street grade crossing in Catawissa in Columbia county. The Public Utility commission ordered the work completed by Aug. 31, 1949.

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. Howard R. Gold, D. D.
Margaret C. Gold

Acts 9:36-42; Matthew 25:31-46
Memory selection: Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. Matthew 25:40.

Often in our churches and elsewhere we use the term "Christian duty." That really should be changed to "Christian love" because it is warmer and more personal. In this lesson we have the finest example of Christian love and neighborliness.

Dorcas, one of the faithful disciples of the church at Lydda, is another of the unsung characters of the New Testament. She was a true steward of Christ for she used her time, talents and money to help the needy, particularly the widows who seemed to form a distinct class. Added to the "almshouses which she did" were the acts of loving kindness she performed. She must have been a woman of considerable means or she could not have spared the time to sew garments. Her fellow church members had learned to depend upon her a great deal.

Her Story
Dorcas was her Greek name and meant "gazelle" probably because she may have had large eloquent eyes. Her intimate friends and neighbors called her by her Aramic name — Tabitha. This kindly thoughtful woman lived in the village of Lydda which lay near the town of Joppa which is now called Jaffa. Joppa was an ancient seaport and her home was on the road to Jerusalem. The surroundings were beautiful — fertile fields, citrus groves and waving palms, a country which resembled our southern California.

It happened that Peter was in Joppa on an apostolic visit to the church there, likely his first visit. This was one of the churches Philip is supposed to have started after the stoning of Stephen at Jerusalem. During Peter's visit Dorcas became ill and died and was prepared for burial by her sorrowing friends and the widows she had befriended. As was customary the widows would act in the place of hired mourners. The church members were so distressed at her untimely death that they sent immediately for Peter, saying, "Delay not to come unto us."

They felt the need of a sympathetic and comforting pastor and knew Peter could supply that. But the friends of Dorcas were not prepared for what occurred.

A Miracle
In the early days of the church the apostles were given the power to heal and work other miracles. When Peter hastened to the home of Dorcas and was ushered into the upper chamber where the woman lay, he found the widows weeping. "But Peter put them all forth and knelt down and prayed." Then Peter spoke to the dead woman, saying, "Tabitha, arise." Opening her eyes and seeing Peter there, she sat up. She soon arose from the couch and Peter called joyously to her relatives and the widows to behold Dorcas alive and walking. The news of this miracle spread throughout Joppa and the surrounding villages and many became believers in the Lord.

This miracle reminds us of the raising of the daughter of Jairus by Jesus. It is not recorded that Jesus knelt and prayed as did Peter but Jesus possessed power within himself to raise the dead. Two outstanding results of the raising of Dorcas were: she was restored to her friends and the church she served so well and because of Peter's act he was able to draw many new converts in that region.

Loving Service
Florence Nightingale once said: "Surely man should bring the best she has, whatever that is, to the work of God's world." Sometimes we strive so hard and look far for opportunity to do a great service and neglect to do the small services within our reach. Possibly Dorcas' contribution of service for the poor and afflicted and her generous response to every demand of the local congregation was more acceptable to God than the rich gifts of kings. She did not work from a sense of duty or because it was the accepted thing to do. It was the outpouring of a loving compassionate spirit. Her life was spent in making her little world a happier holier place to live.

Once a poor woman took a box of precious ointment and anointed the feet of Jesus. The people round about criticized her sharply for such extravagance and waste but Jesus answered them, saying, "She has wrought a good work on me." She had done three things as had Dorcas — she had done it for Christ's sake, it was done in the spirit of self-sacrifice and it had comforted her Lord. Both of these unassuming women had done these acts because they loved their Savior. In loving Him they had learned how to serve others effectively. Living in a pagan-dominated world where poverty and distress were regarded with contempt, not pity, Dorcas had opportunity to demonstrate how to render loving service in obedience to God's commands.

SEEK MISSING WITNESS FOR SPY HEARINGS

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP) — Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said today it has become "imperative" that the immigration service quickly produce missing witness J. Peters for the congressional spy hearings.

An admitted former Communist has testified under oath before the House un-American Activities committee that Peters headed the entire Red underground in the United States.

The committee contends the immigration bureau has promised to produce Peters and that it can do so because he is under $5,000 bond awaiting deportation action.

Three more witnesses were summoned to a closed door session of the un-American Activities committee today for testimony on the Hiss-Chambers relationship.

Former New Dealers
All three formerly were prominent new deal attorneys. All were listed by Chambers as members of the Communist underground when he knew it and by Hiss as fellow lawyers in the old Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

They are Lee Pressman, former counsel for the CIO; John Abt, one-time counsel for the CIO political action committee; and Nathan Witt, former counsel and secretary of the National Labor Relations Board. Pressman and Abt now are active in Henry A. Wallace's new Progressive party.

Nixon said the trio would be given a chance to answer Chambers' accusations that they belonged to an "elite" Communist underground.

But the main idea, he said, is to get the main idea, he said, is to get connections between Hiss and Chambers.

If they have anything to add to the story, he said, their testimony will be brought out in open hearings. The committee has scheduled its next public session for Wednesday, when Chambers and Hiss are supposed to confront one another.

80 Flee Blaze In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP) — About 80 persons were chased from two adjoining buildings by a fire that swept a men's wear shop on Walnut street between Broad and 13th streets late yesterday.

Thousands of spectators jammed the street, including many who had gathered to witness the Pennsylvania American Legion's 40 and 8 parade.

Deputy Fire Chief William A. Simmler said the fire apparently started from spontaneous combustion among the discarded paper and boxes in the rear of the Herbert Rome Men's Wear shop.

It is a good method to vaccinate pullets against Chicken Pox and Laryngotracheitis about 4 weeks before you expect them to lay the first egg. Light breeds usually start laying at about 4½-5 months of age; heavy breeds need about 3 three weeks more time to develop toward maturity. There is a new vaccine against Newcastle disease. However it only ought to be recommended for large flocks since it does not promise 100 percent protection, and because you have to continue vaccination of all your birds from the first day you start using this vaccine on your farm. Birds vaccinated while laying may go out of production and molt, and they will not pay their room and board for quite a time. Before you house your pullets to lay provide for every five birds one nest with good bedding which will prevent breakage losses. Birds like their nests fairly dark.

(How to protect chickens from parasites according to latest methods will be told next Friday).

BODY OF RUTH IN RECEIVING TOMB NEAR N.Y.

New York, Aug. 20 (AP) — The body of George Herman Ruth rested today in a receiving tomb on a hillside overlooking the Bronx river about 30 miles north of New York city.

It was taken there yesterday after sorrowing thousands had said their last goodbye to the ballplayer who won the heart of the nation.

A crowd of 6,000 gathered in a pouring rain at the Gate of Heaven cemetery, at Mt. Pleasant, N. Y., for the committal services. They stood with heads bowed as Monsignor John J. O'Donnell intoned: "May his soul and the souls of all the departed find rest and peace." The casket was placed in the vault, where it will remain until the family decides on final burial plans.

Streets Are Jammed
Streets of communities along the route to the cemetery were jammed as the 25-car funeral cortege made its way from St. Patrick's cathedral in midtown Manhattan, where a requiem high mass was conducted. Six thousand persons crowded into the huge cathedral for the services. Another 75,000 packed Fifth avenue and adjacent streets outside.

It was a hushed and solemn throng — a mixed gathering of the famous and the obscure — come to pay a farewell tribute to the Babe whose smashing bat wrote a dramatic chapter in American folk history.

Often only the sound of falling rain was audible over the vast assemblage that stood outside in homage to the home-run king, who died

Man Arrested On Charge Of Murder

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 20 (AP)— Sheriff's deputy Lester Hay said today a man charged with the murder of Miss Lucille Ramirez, 29-year-old Modesto, Calif., nurse, had been arrested in Harrisburg, Pa.

He identified the man as Franklin Lindmuth, alias Franklin Lester, about 19. Harrisburg officers advised him they had found Lindmuth at a Harrisburg address where he formerly had lived.

Hay said the young man had served a prison term in Pennsylvania and recently was released from jail in California, although he could not recall in what city.

Miss Ramirez' body was found here Monday beside the Rio Grande. She had been shot through the back of the head.

Allentown, Pa., Aug. 20 (AP) — The Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers association will elect a 1948 "Potato Blossom Queen" next Thursday at its field day in Potter county.

of cancer Monday night at the age of 53.

Inside the cathedral Francis Cardinal Spellman offered a special prayer in which he asked that the Divine Spirit "that inspired Babe Ruth to overcome hardships and win the crucial game of life, may animate many generations of American youth."

As the prayer ended, the Babe's widow, Mrs. Claire Ruth, raised her head, and said "amen." Echoing whispers were heard throughout the cathedral.

The Bambino

Irritating the Manager

OF ALL the people who knew Babe Ruth none knew him better than Ed Barrow.

Barrow managed the Boston Red Sox from 1918 through 1920 and was familiar with Ruth's antics off the field. One night when the team visited Washington, Barrow stayed up all night to catch Ruth breaking training rules.

At six a.m. Barrow stormed into Ruth's room to find Babe smoking a pipe with the bed covers up to his neck. "I've been here all night," Ruth said. "I like to smoke this early every morning."

Signing on the Dotted Line

BASEBALL players owe Babe Ruth an eternal debt of gratitude. He was responsible more than anyone for the present high salaries paid to the stars of the diamond.

The Bambino's annual holdout capers were the top off-season baseball stories and often his stubbornness about signing carried right up to the close of spring training.

One spring he signed a contract under the stands at St. Petersburg, Fla. Though the document called for $50,000 Ruth signed without reading it.

In his 15 years with the Yankees Ruth batted 659 regular season homers, an average of 44 a season. His home runs blazed a trail across every sports page in the country.

No. 3. The House That Ruth Built

A Yankee for $125,000

With that Barrow pulled back the covers and found what he had expected. Ruth was fully dressed, even to his shoes. The next day Ruth was suspended.

"But you couldn't suspend a man like that for very long," Barrow once said. "He loved the game too much."

Ruth was unhappy in January 1920 when Owner Harry Frazee, in need of money, sold the Babe to the Yankees for $125,000. Ruth began in Boston and had the place in his heart.

But the Babe must have taken real pride in himself his first two years as a Yankee for he hit 54 home runs in 1920 and 59 in 1921, and every drive he hit helped

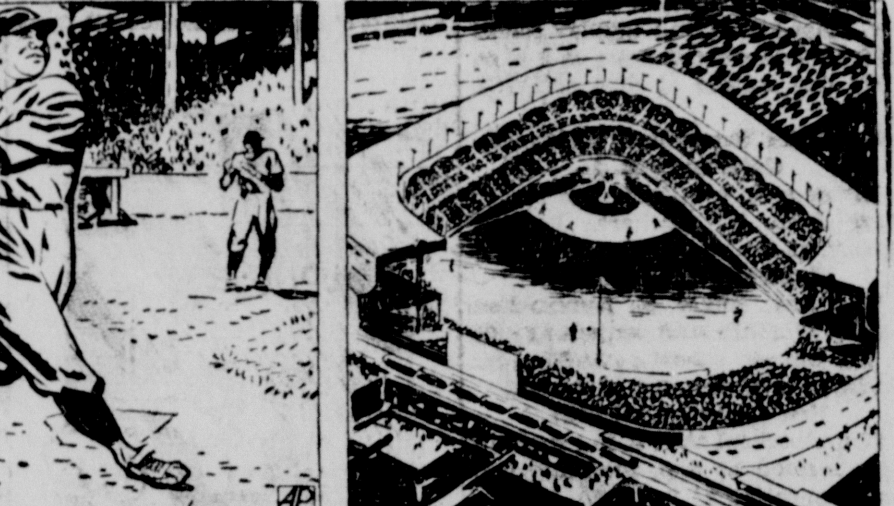

A Famous Hospital Case

During 1925—Ruth's one poor year in baseball though he batted 290 and hit 25 homers—he became the most celebrated hospital case of all time. He came up with influenza which limited him to less than 100 games for the only time during his peak years. But it was his recurrent "stomach aches" that really made him a famous hospital case. Practically every kid in the country was rooting for his return to action.

He came back at 32 the following year with 47 homers and a .372 batting average and followed this with his record 60 homers in 1927 and 54 in 1928.

Five weeks before the 1930 season opened he signed a two-year contract for $80,000-a-year. He rented two homes in St. Petersburg, one for himself and one for Lefty Gomez, the quick-witted Yankee pitcher whose company Ruth enjoyed.

No. 4. Famous Home Run Gesture

Crashing the Headlines

wipe off the stigma of the Chicago Black Sox Scandal of 1919.

In 1923 Ruth had another great year. Yankee Stadium opened that April and the $3,000,000 park came to be known as "The House That Ruth Built." Ruth was in all his glory, a new park and new honors. He batted .393 and was voted the Most Valuable Player in the American League.

A Columbia professor once gave Ruth some 20 tests in reactions, such as coordination, hearing and eyesight. When it was over the professor said: "He's one man out of a million."

"Hey Goofy! Lookit the Fish"

Coming home from a fishing trip Ruth stood on Lefty's lawn at two o'clock in the morning and yelled at the top of his lungs:

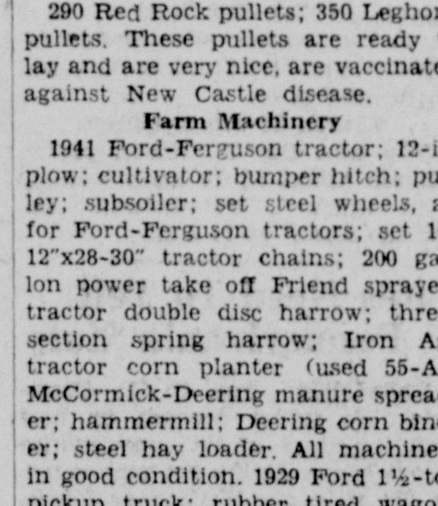

"Hey, Gomez! Look at the big fish I caught."

Ruth was always playing pranks on his teammates. One time he substituted liniment for eyewash in a bottle belonging to Tony Lazzeri.

The shoe was on the other foot in the 1932 World Series. The Chicago Cubs irritated Ruth with taunts and rolled lemons on the field in the third game. Ruth was so furious he pointed toward the bleachers and a few seconds later drove one of Charley Root's pitches almost to the spot for a home run.

5 BAILED FOR TAX SHORTAGE

Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP)—Five men were held in bail yesterday in connection with city tax shortages after Judge Raymond MacNeille scored "dishonest" municipal employees "for bringing disgrace upon the city and the majority of honest workers."

Three of those held were named in a note left by William C. Foss, former head of the amusement tax division in the office of receiver of taxes W. Frank Marshall. It was Foss' note that touched off the municipal investigations after he was found hanged.

The three named in Foss' note are

James F. Nuel, Jr., and Samuel Pitkus, both clerks in the amusement tax division and Dominic Antonini, former auditor in the office of City Controller Frank J. Tiemann. Each was held in $2,000 bail to await action of the September grand jury.

Signs Own Bond
Walter Wilkinson, 38, a former clerk in the delinquent tax office of the board of education, was permitted to sign his own bond for $500. Assistant District Attorney Americo Cortese said Wilkinson had signed a statement admitting embezzlements and was prepared to plead guilty.

The fifth defendant, Maurice Simpson, former clerk in the amusement tax division and later secretary to Councilman Louis Schwartz, maintaining his innocence, was the only one to demand an immediate However, Assistant District Attorney Raymond V. John told Judge MacNeille that the prosecution was not prepared to present its witnesses and Simpson was released in $2,000 bail for further hearing scheduled next Wednesday.

NO RED DOCTOR SEES FUGITIVE

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Soviet officials have delayed taking advantage of an invitation to send a doctor of their own choosing for consultation in the case of Mrs. Oksana S. Kosenkina, who was critically injured in a leap from a third-story window of the Russian consulate.

The invitation was extended Wednesday night, after the Soviets had demanded day after day that their own doctor be admitted to minister to her.

Consul General Yakov M. Lomakin told newsmen yesterday that he had selected a physician to confer with Roosevelt hospital doctors about the 52-year-old Russian teacher. He would not, however, identify the doctor or say when he would call.

Dr. Grant Pennoyer, the hospital physician attending Mrs. Kosenkina, expressed disappointment last night that Lomakin had not sent a physician to see him.

At 5 a. m. (EST) today, the hospital reported a slight improvement in Mrs. Kosenkina's condition. A bulletin said she had slept for long periods during the night, and appeared "a little brighter" than yesterday. She remained on the critical list. Her temperature was 101, pulse 88 and respiration 28.

Mrs. Kosenkina, who rallied yesterday after a sinking spell, was returned to an oxygen tent last night after being out of it for four hours.

Urges Slash In Price Of Shoes

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—The president of the National Association of Shoe Chain Stores today called on all segments of the shoe industry to cut profit margins if necessary to provide the public with lower priced footwear.

"The time has come for all segments of the industry to take full cognizance of the clear-cut demand by the consumer for lower shoe prices and to do something about it," said Mark A. Edison, association president.

Edison said chain stores have geared their buying and selling to meet that demand, have done "an outstanding job of maintaining price levels" and have increased the concentration of their offerings at lower price points than prevailed a year ago.

Delaware Calls 66 Gridders To Drill

Newark, Del., Aug. 20 — Sixty-six men have been called by Coach Bill Murray to the University of Delaware's football practice sessions starting Tuesday, August 31. The group includes some 35 members of last year's varsity, among them 19 letter-winners.

"We intend to start with rough work from the very first day—come back in good shape," Murray's letter to his gridders warned. He urged them to report on the afternoon of August 30 for their uniforms, and get squared away to start serious practice the next morning.

The Blue Hens will meet the Gettysburg college eleven here on Saturday, November 6.

Government Sanctions Mortgage Guarantees And Loans To Get More Homes

HOUSING ACT TO ENCOURAGE MASS BUILDING

By STERLING F. GREEN
(Editors Note: This is the first of two articles on the new housing act)
Washington, Aug. 20 (AP) — The housing act is an "average man's" program. It doesn't try to reach the lowest-income families by public housing. Nor will it build any expensive dream homes.
But in thousands of words and with millions of dollars, the new act seeks to get decent homes built, both for sale and for rent, that the ordinary citizen can afford.
By prewar standards they will not be cheap. But at least they may be available. There's plenty of building already; the hope is to divert some of the boom into the lower-price field.
There are three major lines of attack:
1. To provide more financing help for the small-home buyer. When the government insures his mortgage, the little fellow becomes a better risk.
More "Pre-Fabs"
2. To cut the basic cost of houses. Mainly, this means to bring out more pre-fabs and mass-built dwellings.
3. To encourage more rental housing, so that the family of modest means won't be forced to buy something it can't afford just to get a shelter.
This article will deal with points 2 and 3—with getting the cheaper houses and apartments built. The direct help to home-buyers, including what realtors have already dubbed a "bargain basement" financing plan, will be discussed tomorrow.
First, basic costs. The government can't do much about the house put together with hammer, saw and bricks. The law tells it to try, and provides $300,000 to promote standardized materials and so on. But large sums have been spent on this in the past and housing prices still have gone right on up.

So the emphasis shifts to the mass-producer. He becomes eligible for federal housing administration aid—the same sort of FHA mortgage insurance familiar to home-buyers.
If a prefabricator needs money to get into mass production, the government will insure up to 90 percent of his loan at a bank. If the bank still cannot or will not lend the money when its risk is thus cut to 10 percent, the government can lend the money directly, through the reconstruction finance corporation.
Loans To Factories
RFC will lend up to 75 percent of the money needed for new equipment, operating funds, or even a factory. That should help get more prefabs built.
But there's one more step—getting the prefabricator on the housing market.

Here the dealer gets help. If he needs money, the government will insure his notes to the bank for six months.
The dealer can then borrow the money to buy a house from the factory. He sells it to you. Then he pays off the bank.
Next, the law encourages big-scale developers—the builders who put up 25 or more single-family houses at once, using "modern industrial processes" on the site. Houses valued at up to $7,500 qualify for help.
Until now, only a well-heeled contractor had the money to tie up in such a development. Now FHA will insure his borrowing in advance—meaning, during the construction.
Here the limit of federal aid is 80 percent, with a top of $6,000. That, in effect, puts a $7,500 limit on the value of each dwelling, under FHA valuation.
The builder conceivably could ask more from the buyer. But the buyer would know that it is a $7,500 house and that other builders offer it at that price. He isn't likely to be charged more.

As for rental housing: Here the government not only can give financial aid to get apartment projects built, but as a condition of that aid, also can regulate the rent to be charged.
Too, it can and does take care of families with children. A landlord who discriminates against them can be fined $500.
Two devices are used to interest private industry in rental housing. The first—mortgage insurance, again—covers projects as small as eight dwelling units. And from there on up to $5,000,000.
This section revives an earlier plan, but changes some rules which made builders shy away. For instance, it doesn't set a dollar limit on the cost per room. And, in valuing the property for mortgage purposes, it takes into account the higher cost of building up to the start of this year.
But the government "negotiates" with the builder on the rent to be charged. That means, in effect, that the government sets the rent; if the builder doesn't agree, he doesn't get help.

This doesn't necessarily mean low rents. The government will try to see that the return to the owner is 6 1/2 percent.
Finally, there is "yield insurance." This is meant to attract the biggest type of investor, usually insurance companies. If they will tackle a major housing project, the government will guarantee a return of 2 1/2 percent a year.
Actually, the rents will be fixed to return 3 1/2 percent. And the projects must meet this test: There must be "reasonable assurance that they will meet the needs of families of mod-

Convict Soldier Of Murdering Chaplain

Yokohama, Aug. 20 (AP)—Pvt. William C. Manis of Church Hill, Tenn., was convicted Thursday of murdering Capt. John A. Ryan of Philadelphia, a Catholic chaplain, and sentenced to life imprisonment.
The general court martial sentence is subject to the review of the Yokohama Base Commander, Brig. Gen. Crump Garvin.
Manis was convicted on the testimony of a Japanese prostitute. She said the young soldier shot the chaplain near Sugamo prison, where both of the Americans were stationed, when the priest reprimanded the soldier for appearing in public with his arm around a prostitute.
The soldier denied the shooting, which occurred on the night of April 5.

New Oxford

New Oxford—The local Lions club is completing preparations for its Lions club fair to take place here each evening from Monday, August 23 through Saturday, August 28. There will be games, rides, concessions, amusements and refreshments with music furnished by a different band each evening. Posters announcing this event have been placed in many business places in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kuhn were among a number of guests recently at the surprise party tendered J. William Moul, Hanover, at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Wintrobe, that city.
A large group of local students are expected to be present Wednesday, September 1, when the Delone Catholic high school, McSherrystown, resumes classes for the 1948-49 term.
Mrs. Nettie Kopman Berkheimer, Abbottstown, formerly of here, with her daughters, Linda and Susan, were among a party that spent a day visiting friends at the Picketts during the past week.

MEDIATOR SAYS SITUATION IN JERUSALEM BAD

Stockholm, Aug. 20 (AP) — The United Nations Palestine mediator warned the security council Thursday that the situation in Jerusalem is "gradually getting out of hand." He said it is doubtful whether the Holy City can be demilitarized in the near future.

Count Folke Bernadotte, asking the council for prompt action to halt the renewed Arab-Jewish strife, declared in an interim report that the Arabs have accepted in principle the plan to disarm regular and irregular troops in Jerusalem.

"But the Jews, who stated initially they did not exclude demilitarization, have shown no readiness to accept it up till now," Bernadotte added.

Under these conditions it would be necessary to have a "strong and well-armed international force" to bring about demilitarization of the Holy City, the report said. Demilitarization of Jerusalem has been one of the mediator's primary aims in his negotiations with Jews and Arabs. His latest attempt to bring about a cease fire failed to halt the fighting there.

Fears New Warfare

Bernadotte's report expressed fear these clashes might bring about new full scale warfare.

"It should be borne in mind that further deterioration" of the situation in Jerusalem may lead to gen-

Butchers Move To Slash Meat Prices

Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP) — The butcher has joined the housewife in a fight to bring down the price of meat.

About 15 West Philadelphia shops have signs in their windows announcing their cooperation with a housewives' three-day buyer strike which started Thursday.

The signs read:

"This store will sell no meat on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in support of a meat strike against high prices."

Cooperation of the butchers was obtained by more than 5,000 housewives who canvassed the neighborhood and circulated petitions.

eral resumption of hostilities," he said.

The United Nations mediator had asked Arabs and Jews to accept a new cease fire effective last Friday morning. But the bitterest fighting since the second Palestine truce began raged throughout last Friday night.

Jews Blame Arabs

The Jews have blamed "irresponsible dissident elements" and the Arabs "uncontrollable irregulars" for some truce violations.

Despite the efforts of himself and observers, he added, "not only firing has practically never ceased in Jerusalem but the situation is gradually getting out of hand."

Bernadotte's aides said the mediator addressed the message to the security council after learning it was to adjourn September 1 for 20 days and then reconvene in Paris.

GOP TO ANSWER FARM STRATEGY OF DEMOCRATS

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP) — A Democratic farm vote challenge appeared likely to be answered by a campaign pledge from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to back a strong price support program.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky put up the sign posts for Democratic farm belt strategy with his assertion at Springfield, Ill., that farmers can choose in November between high prices under the Democrats or low prices under the Republicans.

But the major Republican edict on agricultural policy is expected to come from Dewey on the GOP presidential nominee's projected cross-country campaign tour.

Unless he changes his mind, Dewey is expected to outline a program under which the government would continue to put a loan floor under farm prices.

Dewey has criticized the administration for "shifting from expedient to expedient" in dealing with farmers. He said he resented "unfair attacks" on farm cooperatives.

Barkley accused the Republicans of trying to scuttle the cooperatives by cutting off their tax exemptions. He credited President Truman with stopping this move.

The Kentucky senator's talk apparently was only the first of an intensive drive the Democrats plan in the farm belt, which went Republican in a big way in the 1946 congressional elections.

Dewey's strategists evidently are counting on heavy support for him in the rural areas to offset the bid President Truman has made for labor support with his call for repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

Plan Extensive Tour

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath said after a conference with the president Wednesday that Mr. Truman will set out shortly on speaking tours.

He will be on the road most of the time after mid-September, McGrath said, adding that while Mr. Truman will not visit every state he will go into every section of the country, including the south.

Dewey, still blocking out his campaign plans, talked again Wednesday with House speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts. At a news conference afterwards, Martin replied to a question as to whether he would defend the record of the 80th Congress during the campaign:

"The 80th Congress doesn't need defending. We are going to brag about the 80th Congress."

DURING PEACH SEASON Telephone Calls Will Go Through Promptly

Although the surge in long distance telephone calls which always accompanies the fruit harvest season is under way, telephone traffic continues to flow smoothly and swiftly.

In years past it has been necessary due to war-born shortages of equipment and facilities to ask telephone users to limit conversations and postpone calling so that calls essential to marketing the perishable fruit crop could go through. The public cooperated admirably and the calls went through, although not always without some delay.

This year the situation is improved. Shortages continue to exist and the facilities needed to provide telephone service to all who want it are not yet available. Nevertheless, your telephone company's energetic and continuous efforts to furnish all facilities necessary for adequate, complete, prompt, efficient telephone service are bringing results.

Enlarged switchboards, additional long distance circuits, bigger and more experienced operating forces, all contribute to the faster, smoother flow of traffic. Not to be overlooked in this progress picture is the cooperation of your telephone operators who forego vacations during fruit season to accommodate you even though fruit season is the nation's favorite vacation period.

THREE CONCERNS LOOK FOR OIL BENEATH OCEAN

Santa Barbara, Calif., Aug. 20 (AP)—

Three oil companies are engaged in an exciting gamble off the California coast, using man-made earthquakes in an effort to find new sources of petroleum.

Dull reverberations of a potent new explosive called EP-126 (nitro-carbonate) create shock waves as deep as 15,000 feet below the ocean bottom. Never before has man sought to pump oil from rock cavities underlying the open sea itself.

The venture is costing Shell, Union and Continental Oil companies $2,500 a day. On October 1, 13 concerns will pool their resources for a risky survey of the submerged lands from Point Conception to Point Estero.

If the analysis shows that oil does exist under the floor of the Pacific, an even tougher problem lies ahead, that of extracting the fuel. That possibly would entail the creation of an artificial island offshore from which drills could reach into the oily treasure trove.

Make Recordings
The sea exploration job goes on, five days a week, with three tiny fleets in operation. Two buoyed cables astern the boats pick up in geophones, or electronic ears, the shock of the explosion as it bounces back from rock strata below the sea. At a recording room they are changed by a galvanometer into light beams on a supersensitive film. These are analyzed by experts, compiled as maps, and the exposed film

Glass Mold Makers Accept Pay Boost

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 20 (AP)—

The threat of a general work stoppage in one branch of the glass industry was over Wednesday but some 23,000 workers in other divisions still were at odds with management over a wage increase.

The mold makers Tuesday accepted an average hourly pay boost of 13 cents offered by container manufacturers after a month of negotiations. The mold makers originally had asked for a 30-cent increase.

Referring to the amount accepted, Harry H. Cook of Toledo, O., president of the AFL American Flint Glass Workers Union, said "it isn't all we wanted but we're satisfied it was the best to be obtained under

Some experts estimate that more than two billion barrels of oil are locked beneath Southern California's offshore land. America's daily requirement of oil, in the event of war, would top 8,000,000 barrels. That is 3,000,000 barrels more than the nation now turns out.

In the mammoth hunt for the new source will be Shell, Hancock, Continental, General Petroleum, Union, Humble, Standard of California, Richmond, Tide Water, Honolulu, Signal, Ohio and Texas companies.

ADD SHIPS TO WORLD FLEET

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The nation's globe-girdling merchant fleet Thursday added three new passenger-cargo liners to its future roster.

The ships will be built by the New York Shipbuilding corporation of Camden, N. J., at a cost of $32,000,000, the Maritime commission announced yesterday.

When completed in about two years, the vessels will go into the round-the-world service of the American President lines.

Designed to carry 228 passengers and a crew of 162 each, the 19,600 ton liners will have a speed of 19 knots and contain new defense features.

Award of the contract marks the second big step in the commission's $178,000,000 program of expanding and modernizing the American merchant fleet. Last week $50,000,000 was allotted to the Bethlehem Steel corporation for two passenger ships for American export lines.

Still to be let is a contract for a proposed 980-foot "superliner" for United States Lines.

The government pays the costs of defense features incorporated in the new vessels as well as a 44.04 per cent subsidy on the total costs.
